

MEDICINE WINS INTERFACULTY TRACK TITLE

Pile Up Lead Of 17 Points Over
Nearest Competitor

THREE RECORDS GO

Pole Vault and Javelin Marks
Bettered — Weakness in Track Events

Three records, all in field events, were broken at the University Track Meet yesterday, when the marks in the discus, pole-vault and javelin throw were lowered. The interfaculty championship went to the Medicine men, who, with a total of 55 points, had a lead of 17 over Arts, their nearest opponents. Science last year's champions, stood third with a total of 25.

Errol Amaron cast the discus 144 feet 7 and three-eighths inches, lowering by more than three feet the mark made by J. J. McDougall, '14. Willie Consiglio bettered his own height of 11 feet six inches at yesterday's meet. Rahmanop, a new comer to McGill's track team, threw the javelin over 10 feet further than the distance made last year by J. D. Smith. His distance was 146 feet, nine and one quarter inches.

The weather man reneged on his promise and a cold sultry day greeted the athletes, a condition which did not tend to improve matters. However, nothing unexpected happened. The results of the track events showed a weakness in this department, while in the field events the expected good marks were made in the field events.

Following the meet yesterday, members of the track team will rest this afternoon, resuming practice again on Monday. The team that is to represent the University at the intercollegiate meet in Toronto on the 29th, will not be chosen, however, until next Saturday.

Next Saturday afternoon Coach Van Wagner will hold another set of try-outs, after which the team will be chosen. This affair will be in the nature of a miniature meet, and all members of the track squad are invited to complete for a place on the team.

McGill will have to show distinct improvement in all the track events during the next two weeks if she is to retake from Toronto the intercollegiate championship. Varsity is unduly strong in her sprints, and has acquired in addition, several men of note who may seriously contenders in the field numbers.

The Novice Relay race planned for yesterday's meet, as well as the heats in the 220 yard dash, and 220 yard low hurdles were abandoned.

The points scored by the faculties were: Medicine 55; Arts 28; Science 28; Commerce 18; Law 5; Theology 5; and Dentistry one.

The results of the events:—

Discus
First Amaron (Med); second, Weldon (Sc); third, Urquhart (A); fourth, Cummings (Med). Distance 144 ft. 7 3/8 ins.

SPORT RESULTS TO BE POSTED IN UNION TODAY

For the benefit of football fans, the Daily will bulletin a running account of the Queen's-Varsity game at Toronto this afternoon in the Union Cafeteria. By special arrangement, this account is being prepared by James W. Robson, Sporting Editor of the "Varsity."

Results of the intermediate and junior game between Loyola and McGill, as well as the final scores in the interprovincial fixtures will also be posted.

TENNIS FINALS AT R.V.C. YESTERDAY

Misses Cochrane and Carter
Won Tennis Doubles

SCORE WAS 6-1, 10-8

Misses Dow and Malamud
Lost Two of the Three Sets Played

The Misses Cochrane and Carter won the finals of the R.V.C. doubles tennis tournament yesterday when they defeated the Misses Dow and Malamud in the best two out of three sets with a score of 6-1, 10-8.

In the first set there were only two deuce games, the Misses Cochrane and Carter winning easily, although there was much good play from their opponents, particularly fine pick-ups from the back line and sure serving.

In the second set, however, the playing was better on both sides, the ball skimming the net time and time again in long rallies. The Misses Cochrane and Carter had five games to their opponents' two, when the latter took three in succession bringing the score to five all. From that point on the games were very close, each player winning her own serve, and until the very end the victory hung in the balance, when Miss Dow lost her serve and the set ended 10-8 in favour of Miss Cochrane and Miss Carter.

Miss Cochrane, last year's lady champion, played her usual steady, all-round game, Miss Carter's serve was powerful and effective throughout the match and it was only the superior team work of these two players that outweighed the sure serving and accurate placing of the opposing couple's balls. The last few games, especially, showed very good tennis and they were most interesting and spectacular to watch.

SOCCER TEAM MEETS VARSITY

Intercollegiate Series Open at Stadium Today

The soccer team is in fine shape for the Intercollegiate game against Toronto Varsity this afternoon at 1:15 p.m. at the Stadium.

McGill is again very strong and prospects look excellent for repeating the success of the late two years.

Three new men are on the team and in recent practices have shown excellent abilities. The other eight players were on the team last year and have a great deal of experience before them for such a crucial contest.

The team is: Amaron, Giovando, Maule, Kelland, Helwig, Estadi, Watt, Scott, Moffatt, Brain, Garvin, Reserve McLeod.

All the team will meet at the Union at 11:30 a.m. for luncheon, also the following Archdale, Doherty, and Violette.

Little report is through on the strength of the Varsity eleven but judging by last year's game, McGill will have a very hard battle.

The Referee for the game is an outstanding official in Canadian soccer and the team is indeed fortunate to get the services of Mr. H. S. Lyons for this game. Mr. C. Seaton will be one of the linesmen.

Kick-off 1:10 p.m. at the Stadium.

(A); third Cummings (Med); Curry (Med); distance 146 ft. 9 1/4 ins.

Three Mile Run
First, Balmer (Med); second, Calhoun (A); third, Brode (Med) fourth, Ross (A); Time 16 mins. 15.6 secs.

220 Yard Hurdles
First, Blomer (Med); second, Darling (Sc); third, Smith (A). Time 28 sec.

440 Yard Dash
First, Hands (Law); second, Airy (Sc); third, Harris (A); fourth, Solomon (Med). Time 54 secs.

LIBRARY ONCE MORE SCENE OF ACTIVE STUDY

Over 250,000 Volumes And 1,500
Periodicals On Shelves

FIFTEEN SECTIONS

Directions End Regulations for use of Library are Issued

The McGill library is once more the scene of active student life. As one enters one is impressed with the apparent zeal knowledge is sought for. Here and there students are browsing over the shelves searching for reference books, others are hastily juggling down notes while still others are peacefully reading the Daily. There is always a little crowd around the card catalogue and among these the eager looking freshmen are easily recognized.

The periodical room presents a paradise to those who wish to keep themselves posted on the latest news of the world. This room always presents a rather quiet appearance and for the present it proves an ideal spot to search for modern news.

The University Library is under the general management of a Committee with the Librarian as its administrative officer. Over 250,000 volumes fill the shelves and over 1,500 periodicals are received by the Library. The books and periodicals cover all phases of modern and ancient science, art and actual life, and is divided into fifteen sections. These sections include books on Medicine, Law, Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Architecture, Zoology, Ornithology and Entomology.

How to use the Library
The following information on how to use the Library has been issued by the librarians.

The card catalogue to the University Library will be found in cases on the floor of the Reading Room of the Redpath Library. Entries for authors, subjects, and titles are arranged in one alphabet and should be consulted in the same way as the headings in an encyclopedia or a dictionary. The ordinary author card contains the following entries: call number, author's name in full, date of his life, title of book, place and date of publication, paging and size.

For a book by a certain author look under the name (printed in black on the first line of the card), where you will find his writings listed, with one card for each book.

For a book on a definite subject look for the subject (printed in red on the first line of the card), and you will find what the Library has. If you (Continued on page two.)

STUDENTS' SOCIETY MEETS WEDNESDAY

Annual Report to be Delivered

This year's first meeting of the Students' Society will be held in the Union hall room on Wednesday, Oct. 20th at 11 a.m. Eddie Hanna will deliver the report of the Athletic Board of Control, and other business will be attended to.

Upon registering in the University, one automatically becomes a member of this organization and so every student is expected to be on hand. To facilitate this, lectures stop at eleven a.m. on Wednesday, leaving no rational excuse for those few slackers who will undoubtedly fail to show up.

"Among those who stay away will likely be found the bitter critics of the Student executives", Errol Amaron, present of the Student Council said yesterday. "They get some second handed, garbled account of what transpired and then proceed to crab for all they're worth."

A deplorable lack of interest in college activities was shown by the students in the recent elections for president of the Union. Out of a polling list of nearly two thousand, less than four hundred voted.

It is to be regretted that more of the defaulters could not have heard Sir Arthur's brief address to the freshmen on Thursday night. In it he maintained that McGill was not his college — or any other person's for that matter — but that it belonged to the students themselves. So, as participants in the most glorious of all institutions of learning, it is the bounden duty of every freshman, soph, and upper-classman to play his part in her government.

Poor Attendance At Track Meet Due To Weather

Only a handful of men, and a much smaller number of women, turned out yesterday afternoon to see the College Track Meet, notwithstanding the fact that lectures had been cancelled for the day. Those who came early to be sure of a good seat, were ultimately no better located than the ones who kept coming in for the next two hours. And this slow movement inward presently gave way to a speedy drift outward.

Of course the weather man was much to blame for the poor attendance. A cold day in autumn is not like a similar one, in winter. All the spectators sat close together (except at the finish of the race, when everybody was on their feet), with their coats drawn tightly around them, collars up, and hands in pockets. What a different stadium from that of Saturday last!

When the meet was concluded, there was a rush for the street car. The Union, too, was not forgotten. Billiards and smoker, chess and checkers, reading and smoking, all helped to restore natural warmth to the benumbed bodies of chilled enthusiasts.

THEOLOGICAL HELD REUNION DINNER

First to Take Place in New College

CHAS GURD AS HOST

Prize to be Given for College Song — Need of Chapel

The Students, Faculty, Senate and Board of Governors of the United Theological College of Montreal were guests of Mr. Charles Gurd at the first Reunion Dinner given in the College last night. About one hundred and fifty sat down to a banquet in which the host surpassed himself. The Chairman was supported by Principal Smyth, Dean Ritchie together with Dean Rexford and Professors. Among the number were also included prominent business men, notably Dr. Light-hall, Mr. William Birks and Dr. A. O. Dawson.

After having partaken of so sumptuous a meal the host himself opened the evening's program by singing "Father O'Flynn". He was lustily encored and he replied with "Mother Machree", encouraging all to join in the chorus. Mr. Gurd is quite a probable candidate for the position of Theological Cheer-leader.

Dr. Lighthall as Secretary of the United College proposed it's health, saying that all eyes were on this institution, which was an outcome of the United Theological Colleges. It had as it's aim the highest training and the highest ideals for students. He urged it to make friends with Science, and by so doing it would be made the greatest Theological Centre in Canada for the United Church. Principal Smyth replied that his voice was not to be heard tonight in an additional lecture. He congratulated the College on having Dr. Lighthall as its Secretary, for he was eminent in Law, Archaeology, and Philosophy. He referred to Mr. Gurd as the G. O. M. and enquired of the secret of perpetual youth. "Tonight" he said, "we are making history, for this is the first occasion of a meeting together of such a group," and as a placard said, "We're a Jock Tamson's bairns til' night." He announced that it was de-sirous for a College such as this to have both a College Song and Yell. He felt sure that a prize of $100 would be (Continued on page four)

CHEMICAL INDUSTRIAL EXECUTIVE

Club Plans Various Trips to Large Plants

Dr. A. R. M. MacLean was re-elected Honorary President at the first meeting of the Chemical Industrial Club held Wednesday. The officers for the coming session are as follows:—J. E. Easterbrook, President; A. H. Pangman, Vice-President; W. A. Kitchen, Secretary-Treasurer; and J. B. Phillips, Chairman of the Papers Committee.

About twenty members were present and plans for the visiting of various industrial and chemical works were discussed. The first of these trips will take place in a few weeks, the notice of which will appear in the Daily. All those that are interested are invited to turn out. First and second year men will be especially welcome.

FIRST MEETING OF PARLIAMENT TO BE MONDAY

Important Measure To Come Up For Discussion

DORMITORY BILL

Literary and Debating Society Activities to Centre
About Mock Parliament

The opening meeting of the Mock Parliament will be held on Monday night. The party in power is headed by John Humphrey, who has a very strong cabinet supporting him, including Willard Boos, Miller Hyde, Gordon Nalrin, and Bernard Alexander. The leadership of the Opposition is Gordon Webster, who will probably be supported by F. R. Scott of Law, McCaffery, and others. Errol Amaron, in the capacity of Governor-General will deliver the speech from the throne, and Hon. Hugiesson has consented to be speaker again this year.

The Dormitory Bill will be before the House. This provides for the erection of dormitories at McGill. Much interest has been shown in the question in the past and in the new suggestions which have constantly been put forward. Therefore, it is hoped a good idea can be got of how the students feel on the matter.

The room is to be arranged differently for this session, so that any student wishing to obtain admission must show his or her book of tickets.

There will be a visiting delegation of twenty from the University of Montreal. These are coming with the idea of studying the Mock Parliament and its procedure with a view of meeting McGill in debate in the Union in the near future.

The President of the Literary and Debating Society declared that all the debating this year except the impromptu speaking contests and the Intercollegiate debates will be centred about the Mock Parliament. The first visiting team to come to McGill this season is to be Cambridge, who will debate here on Tuesday, Nov. 16th. The performance of the men at the Mock Parliament will help the Judges to pick the best men to debate against Cambridge.

Monday night's debate is the beginning of a series of interesting meetings continued to the end of the year when a representative team will be picked from the speakers at the Mock Parliament, who will represent McGill next spring in a trip to Great Britain. The object is that through the year the men who show the greatest ability as debaters from seniors that are held in Mock Parliament, will be selected.

Impromptu speaking contests will be run off for Freshmen in the very near future. It is expected that a handsome shield will be awarded to the winner. Only Freshmen or men who are at College for the first time are eligible, but men from any faculty may compete. Dates and further particulars will be announced later.

LABORATORY WILL BE ERECTED SOON

Research Work to be Conducted in Forest Products

The Pulp and Paper Association announced yesterday that a new building will be erected on the site of the present Canadian Forest Products Laboratories on University St., adjacent to McGill grounds.

The ground floor will be devoted to the executive offices of the C.P.P.A., and of the department of industrial and cellulose chemistry of McGill University.

McGill University will work upon the more fundamental problems on which the ultimate progress of the industry depends; the Forest Products Laboratories will represent the field of experimental research and the Pulp and Paper Association will represent the application to industrial practice of the findings of the experimental laboratories.

In connection with the new building, Dr. Harold Hibbert, head of the department of cellulose and industrial chemistry at McGill University, will carry on research work. The E. B. Eddy professorship of industrial and cellulose chemistry for cellulose research at McGill University was founded under the will of Mrs. E. B. Eddy, whose bequest was paid over

Parade Not To Precede Today's Football Game

There will be no rosters' parade to the Molson Stadium for today's game, according to an announcement made by Robert B. Bell, cheer leader. However, the centre section is being reserved for the thundering thousand, and they are expected to assemble there a few minutes before the game is scheduled to start.

The McGill University band will be on hand to provide the music for the afternoon.

The canteen hut under the rosters' stand will again be in operation, providing all sorts of refreshments.

COEDS WILL PLAY FOR TENNIS TITLE

Semi-finals Decided Yesterday at R.V.C.

The R. V. C. tennis championship will be decided this morning when the final singles match while contested by two students of the second year.

In the semi-finals which were played off yesterday morning, the victors proved to be Miss Aldeth Adams, who defeated Miss Isabel Bennett 6-4, 6-2, and Miss Marjorie Bradley, who won against Miss Dorothy Ross, 6-2, 6-1.

The match between Miss Adams and Miss Ross was evenly contested throughout. The whole play was characterized by long rallies and clever pick-ups, together with a large number of deuce games. The second set began in favour of Miss Adams but towards the end Miss Bennett showed improvement in her play and it took all of Miss Adams' steadiness and speed to emerge victorious from the match.

Although the resulting scores of the contest between Miss Bradley and Miss Ross point much in favour of the former, it is not to be thought that the match was one-sided. Indeed the games were well fought throughout and frequently featured excessively long rallies which added to the length of games characterized by the almost entire absence of deuce scores. This factor together with the slashing force of Miss Ross's pretty serve roused great suspense on the part of the spectators and it was only with her natural steadiness and effective placing and pick-ups that Miss Bradley finally won her battle.

The outcome of to-day's game is from all indications uncertain. Both contestants have proved their efficiency on the tennis court, each having displaying accurateness and steadiness in all previous games. Miss Adams in the round prior to the semi-finals defeated Miss Dorothy M. Roberts, prominent in college athletics and Miss Bradley has shown her ability and decided improvement from last year in conquering the former tennis champion Miss Edith Cochrane. From these indications a thrilling battle is anticipated.

to the university in 1915, and since that time the new chair has been occupied by Dr. Hibbert.

Although primarily a Dominion Government institution, the Forest Products Laboratories was established at McGill. The old buildings in which the laboratories are housed were intended, when first occupied, to serve as temporary quarters.

The laboratories are a government institution, making the Dominion Government's co-operation in the Association's building plan essential.

It is uncertain whether the lumber testing division, the wood preservation and the pathology division will be included among the occupants of the new building.

STUDENTS IN ARTS TO HOLD RALLIES

First Will be Held on November 2nd

The first Arts rally is to be held on the first Tuesday of next month, November 2nd, in the Moyse theatre. Orchestral music, Arts songs, and cheers will be given, with refreshments served at the close of the meeting. The rally is for all students in Arts.

As each man enters the Hall he will be given a number. To the holder of the lucky number a McGill pennant will be presented.

The year's program is to be announced at this meeting. It consists of important speakers and interesting events, including Historical and Economics rights. A number of the professors have given their approval to this ambitious program, which will be ushered in on the opening night and continued the first Tuesday of every month until the last of the year.

It is hoped to have as guests at the various meetings, Sir Arthur Currie, E. W. Beatty, Premier Taschereau, and Hon. Henri Bourassa.

RED AND WHITE REVUE

A meeting of all those interested in the Red and White Revue will be held in the Union hall room next Monday at five o'clock. All those interested are urgently requested to attend the meeting so that definite plans may be made for the production of the revue.

THE STUDENT AND THE DAILY.

The attitude which some students take in regard to the "Daily" provides food for thought, and even amusement, to those who are connected in any way with the college publication, whether they be members of the managing or news boards or on the staff.

In the first place the average undergraduate does not seem to realize the immense amount of work, organization and planning necessary to issue a four page newspaper on the campus six days a week for something like twenty-two weeks. Furthermore, some go as far as to state that the paper is not a necessity and that a notice board would do just as well. Yet the majority of these same undergraduates forsake the notice board, and sometimes even lecturers, in order that they may read the "Daily". They criticize the paper for its gramitcal and typographical errors forgetting that those who edit and set up the publication are not superhuman, being only ordinary mortals like the rest of the student body.

Still others insist that there is no news in the paper after the first week or so of the term has passed. They too forget, for in this case it only means that the novelty has worn off. As a matter of fact there is every bit as much news but they have become so accustomed to reading the paper that they do not realize that the news is there unless it happens to be about some unusual event or about something sensational in character.

Then we are accused of publishing news after it has appeared in the city newspapers. Truly this is a heinous offence! However we are forced to admit that this sometimes happens through the eagerness of students, and members of the staff and admistration of the University, to give certain news items to the public press first. This is a regrettable feature and the "Daily" would be only too glad to see it remedied as we feel that we support McGill as strongly and even more strongly than the city newspapers do — which is of course our duty — and that therefore it is only fair that all University news should be first issued to the "Daily".

There is yet another type of student who says, "Why don't you publish more jokes?" Evidently he prefers a paper which is composed almost entirely of "filler", one which, owing to the absence of news, is issued now and then. All we need do is point out that the "Daily" is not a funny paper. Its object is not to merely provide humor but to give the students the news of their College and to help mold them into one great institution; to do away with cliques and sectionalism; and to make the undergraduate realize that they are not here merely for their own selfish interests but for the good of the whole.

We are glad to be able to say that we do not believe that most of our critics are really serious. It is merely human nature to complain. Let us for example point out the following. It occasionally happens that the papers do not arrive at one or another of the various buildings before nine o'clock. Then it is that there are looks of dismay and anxious remarks from the undergraduates. "Where is the 'Daily' this morning?", they inquire of one another. And when the publication at last makes its belated arrival there is a wild scramble to obtain copies.

This in itself is a most heartening sight for those whose duty, and pleasure, it is to be responsible for the unfailing and regular appearance of the sheet. It makes them feel that the editing and publishing of a college daily is not such a thankless task after all.

THE PLAYER'S CLUB.

The announcement contained in an issue of the Daily this week that the Player's Club is preparing to resume activities for the season should be greeted with joy on all sides. The difficulties this small band of enthusiasts were compelled to face were manifold; a distressing apathy on the part of the student body toward drama or dramatic production, and the lack of a proper stage and adequate staging facilities.

The prospects of the club for this year are considerably brightened. True, one does not expect that a large number of students will be overwhelmed with the desire either to take part in the productions that are to be put on or even feel sufficiently interested to attend the performances. The large mass of the undergraduate body remains as vapid, as hopeless, and as indifferent to intellectual undertaking as any herd of back-slapping Babbitts could be.

But the Player's Club has cause to rejoice. A theatre equipped in the most modern and up-to-date manner, and a stage possessing every required facility situated within the walls of the university for the use of the club.

A Foothing Fong

By Fir Philip Fidney Dawef

(Written after the style of the early modern poets, whose printers—inconsiderate beings—used to write "F's" instead of "s's", whenever by so doing they could make the meaning of the poem more obscure).

Oh Refolind, thou spritely ffar,
Who fhines like lovely Venuf,
I gaze upon thee from afar
Oh fay thou fhalt not leave uf.

Whene'er the morning fkiee are blue
Arrayed in riding dreeff,
You ride around the park, and you
Invite my fair careff.

Oh prettier than the daffing deer
That through the woodland bruffef
I long to feize you in my arms
But no! Away you ruffef

I fmg about thee when at fchool, do not find the subject wanted, look under other possible names than the one selected. Frequently the catalogue will suggest which of alternative forms has been used—for instance, it will refer you from "Government" to "Political Science," or from "Grammar" to "Language — Grammar." Sometimes at the end of a set of subject cards you will be told to "see also" certain other headings where you will find additional related information—for example, in addition to the books bearing the red subject heading "Education," you will be referred to additional information under the headings "Architectural Education; Classical Education; Scientific Education, etc."

Fiction, plays, and books with striking or unusual titles are catalogued under the title as well as by author. Societies are entered under their names and periodicals under their titles. Government publications are entered under the name of the country. For biography look either under the name of the author of the book or under the name of the person written about.

Coloured cards are used for special purposes: blue cards for bibliographies or lists of books on a subject or person; green for biography of an individual; yellow for criticism or interpretation; pink for cards which are temporarily removed from the Catalogue.

The stack is not open to students. In calling for a book use the call slips provided: white for books to be used for books to be drawn for home use. In the Reading Room only, and pink fill in the call number which appears at the upper left-hand corner of the card, being careful to copy it exactly and to put in the period, plus sign, or two parallel lines which indicate the size of the book (octavo, quarto, or folio); fill in the author's name and title of the book; sign your name and address, and present slip at the Delivery Desk. Be sure to indicate any special collection stamped on catalogue card, such as "Blacker Library."

The shelves in the Reading Room contain various classes of books. Encyclopedias, dictionaries, and general works of reference are on the north side. These may be consulted freely in the Reading Room but may not be taken from the building. On the south side are books reserved for reference in special courses. The shelves are numbered to correspond to the Departments and courses. For conditions under which these books may be borrowed consult the Desk Attendant. The shelves nearest the Delivery Desk contain new books added to the Library.

Books in special demand are kept on the shelves behind the Delivery Desk.

Current periodicals may be found in the room next to the Delivery volumes, consult the catalogue and Desk. For back numbers or bound apply at the Desk.

The University Book Club Room and Office of the Travelling Library Department next to the men's cloakroom are not open to students.

The men's cloakroom must be used when the checker is in attendance. If you have any difficulty in finding information from the Catalogue, do not hesitate to ask for assistance from the Attendant.

Graduate students and members of the Teaching Staff wishing to make use of the inner-library loan arrangement of this institution should consult the Librarian.

The Library is a depository of the Library of Congress Catalogue Cards, which may be consulted on application at the Delivery Desk.

Library Regulations

(Redpath Library Building)

The following regulations of the Library Committee should be observed:—

1—All Students, of all Faculties, Schools, and Departments who have paid their fees are entitled to read in the Library and may borrow books (subject to the regulations) to the number of three volumes at one time.

2—The University Library is closed on Sundays and on certain other holidays, as noted in the Calendar. With a few exceptions, which are posted in the Library at the appropriate time, it is open as follows:—

(a) —During the session, from 9 a.m. till 6 p.m. and from 7 till 10 p.m. On Saturdays, from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m.

(b) —During vacation, from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m. On Saturdays, from 9 a.m. till 1 p.m., except during July and August, when the Library is closed on Saturdays.

3—All students who wish to use the Library must first present their Bursar's receipt at the Delivery Desk and fill in their signatures and address on a Borrower's Register Card. Any subsequent change of address must be reported.

4—Graduates in any of the Faculties other than those registered in The School of Graduate Studies, on making a deposit of $5, are entitled to the use of the Library, subject to the same rules and conditions as students.

5—Books may be taken from the Library only after they have been charged at the Delivery Desk borrowers who cannot attend personally must sign and date an order, giving the titles of the books desired.

6—Books shelved in the reading room must not be taken from the rooms to which they have been assigned; and after they have been used they must be returned promptly by readers to their proper places upon the shelves.

7—Before leaving the Library, readers must return to the attendant at the Delivery Desk books which have been drawn from the stack for use in the reading room.

8—All persons using books remain responsible for them so long as the books are charged to them, and borrowers returning books must see that their receipt is properly cancelled.

9—Written or making any mark upon any book belonging to the Library is unconditionally forbidden. Any person found guilty of wilfully damaging any book in any way shall be excluded from the Library and shall be debarred from the use thereof for such time as the Library Committee may determine.

10—Damage to or loss of any books maps, or plates and injury of library fixtures, must be made good to the satisfaction of the Librarian and the Library Committee. Damages, loss or injury, when the responsibility cannot be traced, will be made good out of the caution money deposited by the students with the Bursar.

11—Should any borrower fail to return a book upon the date when its return is due, he may be notified by postal and requested to return the book. If the time has not been extended or the book returned, after a further delay of at most three days, the book may be sent for by special messenger, at the borrower's expense, or may be replaced and paid for, in the case of a student, out of the caution money of such student; in the case of graduates or other borrowers out of their library deposits. A fine of five cents for ordinary books and of twenty-five cents for reference books is imposed for each day that a book is overdue.

12—Before the close of each session, students must return uninjured, or replace to the satisfaction of the Librarian, all books which they have borrowed.

13—Silence must be strictly observed in the Library.

14—Infringement of any of the rules of the Library will subject the offender to a suspension of his privileges or to such other penalty as the nature of the case may require.

College Comment

ANOTHER SEASON

(Columbia Spectator)

On this day thousands of athletes all over the country will once more resume their football activities for their respective colleges. Thousands of throats will boom out encouragement for the men on the field. Thousands of faculty members will rack their brains for a new way of saying that amateur football is a thing of the past. Thousands of sports writers will take sides on the debate and rejoice in the fact that they have "filler" stories for the rest of the season.

Whether or not the popularity of college football will be seriously affected by the competition put up by two national leagues of professional clubs remains to be seen. The greater danger lies in the temptation presented to the amateur stars to join forces with the professionals. It is because professional football is a new thing that this danger exists. The chartered clubs must get material for their teams and college players are bound to be approached on the subject.

This chance to make "easy" money is quite likely to blind the amateur to the indisputable advantages of continuing his educational career. The Registrar's figures show that few who leave college ever return. The football player who chooses to spend his days chasing the pigskin rather than the degree is therefore apt to join that vast number of men who had the chance to materially improve their lives by studying in their youth but who, for trivial reasons, impaired it greatly by forsaking their books.

R.V.C. CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Rev. Robt. Hall Will Deliver Series of Addresses

The Students Christian Association of R.V.C. has been very fortunate in securing the services of the Rev. Robt. Hall. Mr. Hall is a well-known McGill graduate, who has recently returned from two years post-graduate work in Oxford.

He has consented to give a series of addresses, the subject of which will be "Jesus, the Lord of Life". These are to be given at meetings being held on alternate Monday afternoons from now until the Christmas holidays, at 4 o'clock in the S.C.A. room, Strathcona Hall. The first will be next Monday, October the eighteenth.

It is hoped that all women students who have been active in the S.C.A. in the past will make an effort to attend and newcomers and first year will be welcomed.

following regulations must be observed:—

1—Silence must be maintained in this room.

2—The Library is open for Resident and Non-resident students of the College between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. (on Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.) but is open to Resident Students until 11 p.m.

3—Resident Students (except First Year) may, during evening hours, take books to their rooms, but no book may be out of its place for more than one night at a time, and must be replaced by 9 a.m.

4—Students taking books from the Library in accordance with Rule 3 must make a record in the register.

5—Under special circumstances students may be allowed to take books from the Library for a longer period but permission must be obtained from the Library Assistant.

6—Library books, after being used must be returned promptly by readers to the Library Assistant's desk.

7—Students are asked to put all unnecessary lights on leaving the room.

8—The Library is closed to Resident Students at 11 p.m. and is not to be used after that hour.

HAMILTON PLAYS HERE

O.R.F.U. Team in Exhibition With McGill at Stadium

Despite the fact that McGill seniors play Hamilton Tigers today at the stadium, local fans are centering their interest on the clash between Queen's and Toronto Varsity in the Queen City. The outcome of today's struggle is being eagerly watched, for with a loss in this afternoon's contest, goes Varsity's chances in the 1926 intercollegiate race. The general consensus of opinion however, is that the Blue and White will rip through Bill Hughes' aggregation for a win and Toronto supporters are confident that they will do so. Varsity seems to have a strong advantage in every department except at outside and with G.H. McKelvey out with injuries, the tri-color is not expected to be able to offer much of a defense against the Snyder-Stollery Carrol battering ram. Queen's on their last appearance here looked very weak in their secondary defence, even with McKelvey playing back, and the loss of the halfback is likely to play havoc with them in today's game. McKelvey's absence will be felt too on the attack where Bill Hughes has been forced to inject Wright, the young halfback from Hamilton, who will share with Batstone the brunt of the kicking. Voss has definitely decided not to play this year which means that Hughes has only Chantler, Batstone and Wright for his backfield division. Varsity on the other hand has been strengthened by the addition of Sinclair from their O.R.F.U. team to replace MacFayden, who has been none too good in either his catching or extension runs. With Snyder, Trimble and Sinclair on the half line, McPherson seems to have a decided edge on the Queen's mentor.

A win for Varsity in today's game will send McGill up to first place in the intercollegiate standing, a pedestal they have not perched on since 1920. The teams are expected to line up as follows:

| QUEEN'S     | Varsity   |
|-------------|-----------|
| Flying wing | Carroll   |
| Batstone    | Snyder    |
| Chantler    | Trimble   |
| Wright      | Sinclair  |

| Baldwin     | Hargraff  |
| Snap        |           |
| Skelton     | Morgan    |
| Inside      |           |
| Shaw        | Carrick   |
| Reynolds    | Long      |

| Howard      | Dundas    |
| Monahan     | Stollery  |
| Outside     |           |
| Wright      | Irwin     |

Hamilton Play Here

Hamilton O.R.F.U. team will supply the entertainment at the stadium this afternoon in an exhibition contest with McGill seniors. Several of the regulars will not be in uniform and will be given a rest while the coach tests under fire some of the younger players on the squad. McKelvey, Hogan, Littlefield and Curly Taylor are not expected to dress for the game and though some of the others will start, they will probably give place to the youngsters for a good part of the game.

Simpson and Manly will probably be used in the backfield though Joe Cameron and St. Germain will start the game, with Jack Little, the other member of the trio. Lyall Laisley who showed great coolness under fire in the Varsity game will direct at quarter with Bazin again at the snapping job. Spears and Munro will flank him while at middle will be found McLennan and Fred Taylor. Petch and Boyd Miller are the starts at outside wing, with Davies, a promising performer from Upper Canada College, taking over the job at flying wing. Sharpe, Blair and Gordon will also alternate in the substitutions.

Very little is known of the O.R.F.U. outfit that the seniors are against in today's game. It is expected, however, that individually they will show up well, though it is doubtful that they will be able to show the same coaching that marks an intercollegiate team. Their rating in football seems to be that of a first class intermediate team or on a slightly higher standard than the R.M.C. team whose place they are taking. Camp Borden, however, members of the same league, defeated Queen's in an exhibition game in Kingston last week. The game team was defeated by Varsity earlier in the season so that McGill's opponents in today's fracas are some-

STUDENT GOLFERS SHOW SUPERIORITY

Cold Weather and Winds Interfere With Scores

The students again shower their superiority over the staff in the annual golf match played yesterday over the Royal Montreal golf links, winning out by 38 to 32. The last meeting of the rivals resulted in an overwhelming victory for the students when two years ago the last students vs. staff match was held. Cold weather and a strong wind seriously interfered with the scores which were for the most part high but despite the nasty weather conditions, both students and professors spent a delightful day in friendly rivalry.

Eighteen holes were played by each foursome and three points were awarded to the winner of each. The winner of the first nine holes scored a point, the winner of the second nine, a point for the low score on the eighteen holes added a third. Nearly every pair took the entire three possible points. The scores:

Hamilton Play Here

Hamilton O.R.F.U. team will supply the entertainment at the stadium this afternoon in an exhibition contest with McGill seniors. Several of the regulars will not be in uniform and will be given a rest while the coach tests under fire some of the younger players on the squad. McKelvey, Hogan, Littlefield and Curly Taylor are not expected to dress for the game and though some of the others will start, they will probably give place to the youngsters for a good part of the game.

Simpson and Manly will probably be used in the backfield though Joe Cameron and St. Germain will start the game, with Jack Little, the other member of the trio. Lyall Laisley who showed great coolness under fire in the Varsity game will direct at quarter with Bazin again at the snapping job. Spears and Munro will flank him while at middle will be found McLennan and Fred Taylor. Petch and Boyd Miller are the starts at outside wing, with Davies, a promising performer from Upper Canada College, taking over the job at flying wing. Sharpe, Blair and Gordon will also alternate in the substitutions.

Very little is known of the O.R.F.U. outfit that the seniors are against in today's game. It is expected, however, that individually they will show up well, though it is doubtful that they will be able to show the same coaching that marks an intercollegiate team. Their rating in football seems to be that of a first class intermediate team or on a slightly higher standard than the R.M.C. team whose place they are taking. Camp Borden, however, members of the same league, defeated Queen's in an exhibition game in Kingston last week. The game team was defeated by Varsity earlier in the season so that McGill's opponents in today's fracas are some-

MCGILL SECONDS AND JUNIORS MEET LOYOLA

Rival Camps Enter First of "Crucial" Games Today

This afternoon, before the first game between McGill and Loyola in the Intermediate Division of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union, the opening of the Junior Intercollegiate League will take place when the McGill Juniors play Loyola on the west end campus. The junior game will start early, as the intermediate game is scheduled for 3 o'clock.

Coach Montague of the Loyola squad reports that his senior team will be on the field with their regular lineup for the first time this season and that they are all in the best of condition.

Smith, the hefty quarterback, has guided his team to three victories in the three games played and does not intend to let his team go down to defeat this afternoon without a battle. With Savard occupying the kicking berth, the team is safe enough from the punting standpoint.

Anglin and Pigeon have proved themselves to be valuable men at the inside positions, and no doubt will use their weight in stopping the red and white bucks.

The game this afternoon will be one of the deciding games of the series and on this account both teams are not thinking highly of the outcome.

The following is the line-up of the intermediate teams:

HARVARD RELENTS

Crimson Decides to Retain Princeton on Schedule

Harvard authorities have definitely decided to retain Princeton on their football schedule for 1927, and have withdrawn the proposal which would replace the Tiger eleven with the University of Michigan. This announcement was made following a meeting of the chairman of athletics of the "Big Three" colleges held in New Haven. By this action the "Big Three" in football will remain for another year, at least.

The three officials representing the universities agreed that the proposed substitution of the Michigan eleven would be "counter to the understanding and practice of the triple agreement." William J. Bingham, director of athletics at Harvard, issued the following statement in conjunction with the conclusion of the agreement, which read, "and no change in the essential athletic relations of the three universities is contemplated," that there would "be no change in the rules of eligibility, etc." He also said that the question relating to contests between the three universities was left open.

Mr. Bingham also stated that athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard were excellent, denying that any break in athletic relations was probable, and that he was confident that nothing would arise to disturb this amicable relationship.

RUGGER TEAM PLAYS MCTIER CUP MATCH

Encounters M. A. A. A. in Opening Game

EVENLY MATCHED

First Meeting of Squads Should Provide Close Game

The first English Rugby match for the Mctier Cup will be played today, when the McGill University rugby team meet the M.A.A.A. at the M.A.A. Stadium at 3 o'clock.

The Mctier Cup was presented in 1923 by A. D. Mctier for the purpose of encouraging English rugby in Eastern Canada. It is open for competition to any team in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, the only condition being that the team must send in notice by September that it intends to compete. The matches are so arranged that the clubs in the same district play off, and then the winning team of each district meet to decide who shall hold the cup. There are at the present time three districts namely Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. The teams in the Quebec district are M.A.A.A. English, McGill University, and the Sun Life, and among the other teams are Toronto and the University of New Brunswick, who are the holders of the cup.

The match today between McGill and M.A.A.A. English should be a very good one. The McGill men have been practising hard for the last three weeks, and under the tuition of their coach, Mr. Herron, they have made astonishing progress. Their team is well rounded out but their particular strength lies in the halves and three-quarters, who show really good form. If they repeat the combination and the aggressiveness which they showed last Saturday, McGill should be a hard team to beat. The star man among their three-quarters is Nobis, and it is only hoped he will live up to the reputation he made for himself against the Sun Life.

The hope of the M.A.A.A. rests on two players. Seagar, the scrum-half, and Cohen, a forward. Both these men by virtue of their having played in the best rugby that can be found in England, are an invaluable asset to their side. Seagar played for Blackheath, and Cohen was in the Cambridge Scrum at the time that that team had the finest pack in England.

If anyone is anxious to forecast the result of the game, a summary of the friendly matches already played in Montreal may be of some help. The touring Bermuda team beat McGill by 16-5; they beat the Sun Life by 17-0, and they beat M.A.A.A. by 6-0. In this match one of their best men was not playing, and another got injured early in the game and so for the greater part of the time they only had fourteen men on the field. McGill beat Sun Life last Saturday by 18-0.

Judging from all that can be learned, the game today should be very close.

1. Home, 2. Evans, 3. Noble, 4. Reid, 5. Grimes-Graeme, 6. Angevine, 7. Playfair, 8. Starkey, 9. Stirling, 10. Knowles, 11. West, 12. Redpath, 14. McRoberts, 15. Kincade, 16. Butler, 17. Crandall, 18. Howell.

The above men are asked by the manager to report at the M.A.A.A. clubhouse at 2.30 sharp.

INTERMEDIATE RUGBY

The following players must report on the Loyola grounds at 2.15. Each man is expected to take out his own equipment.

McBride, O'Meara, Halpenny, Altamas, Arnold, Blundell, Robertson, Rosenberg, Church, Silverman, Shelley, Robbins, Ritchie, Morrison, Couch, Dalton, Atkinson, Harris.

TORONTO HERE FOR COLLEGE BOAT RACE

First Intercollegiate Event in Canada Staged Today

University of Toronto's eight-oared crew, accompanied by Honorary Coach Loudon and a number of enthusiasts reached here yesterday evening to compete against the McGill crew over the Lachine course at noon today in the long deferred race, which, it is confidently expected will result in the establishment of Canadian intercollegiate rowing. The contest was arranged at the Canadian Henley last summer, but has been postponed twice for various reasons. Today the crews will race over the course of the Lachine Rowing Club at a distance of approximately one mile. University of Toronto has earned an international reputation in rowing, even though the sport was taken up by the Blue and White only in recent years. McGill crews appeared at the Canadian Henley this year for the first time. Other Canadian universities, East and West are expected to introduce rowing in the not far distant future. The University of Toronto crew for tomorrow's race has been selected as follows: Bruce (stroke), Dale (7), Laird (6), Nicholson (5), Keith (4), Holderson (3), McGillivray (2), Thompson (bow), and cockswain, Hoare. Len Johnson, well known Lachine Boat Club official, will start the race, and W. Owen, also of Lachine, will be referee.

MCINERNEY WON IN TWO FAST MATCHES

Came to Triumph Over Peters and Holt

J. P. McInerney, a clever player from the Maritimes, scored two good wins yesterday, when he triumphed over F. C. Holt and C. H. Peters in fast matches yesterday morning. The score over Holt was 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, and over Peters 6-8, 6-1, 6-4. Although the official naming of the team is yet some days off, McInerney's victories over the two favoured players will most likely earn him a place on the Red and White Intercollegiate team. The squad leaves next Wednesday evening for Toronto, where they will defend the laurels they have held for the past six years.

Jack Wright and Charlie Leslie have already been selected as members of the squad as a result of their entry into the finals of the recent tournament.

Latest reports from Toronto point towards an extremely strong team to represent the Queen City. The recent tournament at Toronto uncovered some unexpectedly good material. Gilbert Nunns and K. Salmond fought it out for the championship of the University and displayed splendid form. Other good men are Don Gunn late of R.M.C., E. Pyne, and Walter Martin champion of Regina and Southern Saskatchewan.

QUEEN'S EXPLAINS SCOUTING EPISODE

Coach Bill Hughes Attended Game as McGill Graduate

MORE EXPLANATIONS

Second in Two Days — Baldwin Was Here on Business, is Claim

For the second time in two days, Queen's University has made a statement in an attempt to answer various charges of the press. Two days ago came a statement on the famous Batstone case from the Queen's registrar and now Mr. McDonnell, secretary-treasurer of the Queen's athletic board of control has thought fit to make a few remarks about Mr. William Hughes' recent visit to Montreal when the latter was claimed to have violated the intercollegiate rules forbidding coaches to scout at football games of the rival teams.

Kingston, Oct. 15.—John S. McDonnell, secretary-treasurer of Queen's University Board of Control, issued the following statement to the press Friday afternoon.

"In view of published statements in the sporting columns of several newspapers concerning a purported breach of agreement by representation of Queen's football team in attending the football game in Montreal between McGill and University of Toronto the Athletic Board of Control if Queen's University held a meeting of investigation this afternoon, at which the following information was submitted: "1.—A statement of the agreement is as follows:—It is agreed that no athletic board or association in the E. I. A. U. will pay the expenses of any person what-so-ever to watch a contest between teams belonging to other members of the C. I. A. U. and further that the practice of scouting on the part of any person will be discouraged."

"2.—As regards Mr. Hughes, Coach of Queen's football team both he and his wife are graduates of McGill. As the public must know well from press notices last week marked McGill's reunion and Mr. Hughes and his wife were invited as were all other gradu-

THEOLOGS HELD REUNION DINNER

forthcoming. The College was now able to enroll former graduates of the other three Colleges as graduates of U.T.C. The fact that the dining hall was adorned with the portraits of former Principals of those three Colleges showed that there was union. He went on to say that there was the greatest need of a College Chapel and Library. Men come to learn to think and to investigate Truth but besides this they needed a spiritual home. There were, he added, twenty-two Freshmen, including Harano from Japan, and Musznai from Transylvania. Such a fact showed that already the world was looking up to this as a seat of sound learning.

Mr. Merlin Davies forcefully sang "The Death of Nelson" at this point, and as an encore, rendered Longfellow's "The Arrow and the Song".

Dean Ritchie in his customary jocular manner proposed the health of the guests. He noted that there were Doctors of Teaching, Preaching, and "those who practised it". There were two business men whom he was glad to have with him tonight as they gave their utmost sympathy to the Ministry. "Their pockets were full like our heads". He strongly supported Principal Smyth in the needs of the College. "Now that they had seen Arts worthily housed, why not Theology? She is the Queen of Sciences, surely she needs a Palace!" In closing he named Mr. Birks, Dr. Rexford and Dr. A. O. Dawson, to each of whom he gave an "honorary degree". Mr. Birks replied that as Chairman of the Joint Board he had something to say and that was "not to expect too much, too quick!" He thought the word "undenominational" was not constructive. He would rather see it "super-denominational". If he were in England he would be Anglican, in Scotland he would be Presbyterian, in Ireland, "O, ye gods!" Standing in a former Wesleyan College, it would be allowed to make personal experiences. There was a need for an "Order of Tertians" in this Church. There was, too, a need to broaden, for only that way came the necessary training. Dr. Rexford, commenting on the United Church, said that this was the greatest moment in the Christian Church in Canada. He hoped that it was the start of the union of all Protestant forces. Upon the students was the responsibility of uniting. He advised them to put all ill-feeling behind them and then so strengthened they would be in a position to even ask the Anglicans to unite, and he himself was doing his utmost and giving his greatest sympathy in this cause. Dr. Dawson felt honored to have his name coupled as a guest. He had made a speech at his Alma Mater, the University of New Brunswick, and had been granted a Doctor's degree. He was soon going to St. John's to speak, for which speech he sincerely hoped he would be knighted. The honour of speaking tonight to such an assembly was in itself sufficient. He had worked, played and had social intercourse with his down-town business friends but they always seemed to part on the Church question, now it was possible to join up with them in that in the United Church of Canada. He told the secret of Mr. Gurd's perpetual youth. This gentleman rises at 5.30, breakfasts at 6.00 and walks to work so as to be in his office at 7 a.m. He hopes Principal Smyth would partake of this recipe. In closing he forbiddingly stated that the Church must have men who can preach.

Dr. Welsh, Dean of Graduate Studies, said that they had now come to the real business of the evening, for he was called upon to toast the Students. There was a law in Philosophy which said that the present was governed by the future. He then introduced the Students as the governing body. Under the precedent of Mr. Gurd, he enquired whether he should give a song or speech. There were cries of "Both!" Dr. Welsh then recalled some of the humorous college songs of the universities of Scotland. These met with the approval of all present. Students had to endure a lot so he would not impose further, but he spoke of himself as being cosmopolitan. Born in Scotland, his only ministry in England, twenty years College life in Canada, and yet his name was Welsh! He contributed to the merriment by enumerating some college howlers. He had lectured about St. Paul having a psychic storm on the road to Damascus. A student had written in his examination that St. Paul had had a "physic storm" on that journey! Bob Stuart said in reply to the toast that he would not take the opportunity to "come back" at the Professors, but he would initiate Doctors Welsh and Gordon as the "Heavenly Twins". He had been chosen because he was "well-red". Students, he added, were a necessity, for without them where would be the Professors, the Senate, the Board of Governors, and where would be the Banquet! Here was the uniting of three traditions from the respective colleges, and the result was to form a far greater one, which would live on now that there had to come about so great a change. The students felt that upon them rested the greatest of responsibilities and he felt certain pense to Queen's Athletic Board of Control, and previous to the game, Mr. Hughes first interviewed Coach Shaughnessy and received from him assurance that his action in attending the game that afternoon would not be construed by McGill as a breach of this agreement. Moreover, Mr. Hughes and his wife secured two tickets for the game from Major Stuart Forbes, manager of athletics at McGill, in his office after his conference with Mr. Shaughnessy. Then Mr. Hughes and his wife attended the game by themselves amongst other McGill graduates.

"Following the game Mr. Hughes, in conversation with Mr. McPherson, coach of the Varsity team and Warren Snyder, captain of the Varsity team discussed with them in an amicable way his presence at the game this afternoon and received their assurance that there was nothing in what Mr. Hughes had done that would create any criticism from University of Toronto authorities.

"Mr. Baldwin, the other member of the club, who viewed the game was also brought before the committee. Mr. Baldwin stated that he did not know and had never heard of any agreement concerning players visiting other club's games and that his presence in Montreal was under instructions from his summer employer. In support of his contention, he submitted a letter from his employer, which states that Mr. Baldwin was sent to Montreal on Friday, October 9, to attend to some personal business for him owing to his own serious illness, which illness the committee knows to be a fact, and Baldwin's expenses were paid accordingly by his employer.

"In view of the above information, the Athletic Board of Control of Queen's University has submitted this case with the whole question of inter-university scouting to the C. I. A. U. for action."

The question of the right of Coach Hughes and Quarter Back Baldwin to attend the McGill-Varsity game was brought forward through a letter addressed to Major Forbes, and written by a member of the rules' committee of the Intercollegiate Rugby Union, one who has been a member of the McGill Athletic Board when the clause discouraging scouting was introduced. This rugby authority maintains still, that while the Queen's men might have been within the letter of the rule, it was violated in spirit. He adds that at the time the rule was introduced he opposed it on the grounds that scouting would be carried on sub rosa and that it would be better to have it done openly to avoid any disagreeable contretemps. However, once the rule was passed he holds it should be respected both in spirit as well as to the letter. He drew special attention to the following words in the rule—"That the practice of scouting on the part of any person will be discouraged."

ANTHONY COMSTOCK

Hollywood Brown and Margaret Leech have written a biography of Anthony Comstock, famous figure in American History. Boni and Liveright, New York, are the publishers.

Anthony Comstock, whose portly figure and flowing mutton-chop whiskers have furnished inspiration for countless cartoonists, has been one of the most widely discussed figures in American life. Since George Bernard Shaw invented the term "Comstockery," in 1905, his name has become a byword to many people who know little of his work. For more than forty years, until his death in 1915, Comstock pursued his crusade against vice. Always a deeply religious man, he felt that he was dedicated to God's work, and his sincerity won him many friends and admirers. By others he was loudly denounced. Many attacks were made on him, including several attempts on his life. Hundreds of epithets, frequently satirical, were bestowed on him, such as "the modern Galahad," "an incorporated conscience," "the unsleeping protector of the morals of the metropolis."

The height of nerve is to take a girl out riding in her own car and make her walk home.—Ex.

The Reverend Robert Hall will be that they could be depended upon to live them out.

Just before closing, Dr. Gifford made a resolution that the good wishes and sympathy of those present should be sent to Dr. Graham in his recent bereavement. Principal Smyth thanked the musicians, Mr. Merlin Davies and his accompanist, Mr. Harold Eustace Key for their services. He proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the host and the assembled company replied with musical honours. College spirit was not lacking among the students, for they made the walls and roof ring with the McGill yell.
